

The hottest party of the summer

Ice Tropez launches at The Twelve!

Can you be super-cool and sizzling hot at the same time? The Twelve in Bearna is both, and so is Ice Tropez – a chic, cleaned bottle filled with a deliciously refreshing cocktail based on lightly sparkling rosé blended with white peach.

From the glamorous town of St. Tropez in the French Riviera, playground to jet-setters, models and millionaires, Ice Tropez was created by Gregoire Chaix, owner of St. Tropez's famous hotspot, le Bar du Port, to please the tastes of his ultra hip clientele. The very stylish double serving bottle was designed by famous French architect and interior designer Christophe Pillet, renowned for his contribution to landmarks such as Hotel Sezz in Paris, as well as the iconic Bar du Port in the breathtaking harbour of St.Tropez.

The Twelve Hotel Galway is hosting a lavish party on Friday 13th August to exclusively launch Ice Tropez in Ireland, an event entirely in keeping with the style and summer vibe of the party drink of St.Tropez! With a live link to a huge celebration in St. Tropez at the Ice Tropez vineyards to mark the Irish launch, the wine makers will also have a few words for the crowd at the party in The Twelve, which is free and open to the public. But come early....

The fun-filled carnival and beach party atmosphere at The Twelve Hotel in Galway will be helped along in no small part by music from The Disconauts, Ireland's finest DJ ensemble, who fuse skillful mixing of deep & soulful house with live percussion from bongos, congas and timbales, to create a hugely exciting club act.

"This is a perfect summer drink," says Fergus O'Halloran, general manager and award-winning sommelier at The Twelve. "Ice Tropez is an attractively refreshing blend of French rosé, sparkling water and fruit flavours which I'm looking forward to introducing to our party guests, and I'm really looking forward to the launch party – it's going to be pure Riviera chic!"

Catwalk model agency will partake in the festivities and judge the Ice Tropez Lady who will be awarded with an exclusive one year's contract. With make-up artists at the ready and an eyelash bar on hand to keep the ladies fresh and paparazzi-ready, guests can channel the other most famous St.

Tropez discovery – Brigitte Bardot – as they enjoy a new icon from the Côte d'Azur, Ice Tropez at The Twelve Hotel!

The party kicks off at 9pm. Part Proceeds to Aware Charity. Follow The Twelve and Ice Tropez on www.facebook.com/thetwelvehotel
