Spanish point

If you're not familiar with the Spanish Albariño white wine grape, you need to rectify that situation immediately, preferably while the sun is still shining. Get familiar fast with a series of Rías Baixas (the home of Albariño) evenings around the country, in which a wine expert will introduce guests to seven different Rías Baixas wines. The evenings kick off in

No. 1 Pery Square Hotel in Limerick on 30 June, followed by 7 July at Galway's The Twelve Hotel, and finishing in Green Man Wines in Dublin on 13 July. Tickets are available from the venues at €25pp and include tapas bites.
