

HoneyMoon VIP Suite XII

The Ultimate Honeymoon Escape is closer than you think. You've had a busy few months planning for your big day so now it's time to put your feet up, relax and let The Twelve Hotel in Galway take care of you with their gorgeously pampering honeymoon package. Sinatra sang 'fly me to the moon', but your loved one will simply be saying 'drive me to the honeymoon', as there's no need for planes or anything other than your car to take you to the beautiful Twelve Hotel where pure romance awaits you in their VIP Suite XII.

Suite XII is the ultimate romantic bolt-hole for newlyweds! An open fireplace separates the living room and bedroom, providing private areas within one space. The living room has a sumptuous couch, two 32" wall mounted plasma screen TVs with surround sound and a beautiful dining table. The bathroom has a step up Jacuzzi as well as a double shower for sharing.

Arrive at The Twelve for your three-night honeymoon, where you will be greeted by chilled Champagne to set the scene for three days of luxury. Enjoy lazy mornings in bed, with a full cooked breakfast delivered to your private dining room each morning. Enjoy a delicious dinner on one evening in their two AA Rosette restaurant, West, and dinner on a second evening in award-winning Gastrobar, The Pins. Also included in this package is a His & Hers Voya spa treatment each. After all this relaxation, you may be in the mood for something more energetic with windsurfing, horse-riding, or a round of golf all available. Start your marriage as you mean to go on – spoiling yourselves and each other. For full details call 091 597000 or see their website: www.thetwelvehotel.ie
